

ALIA NATIONAL LIBRARY AND INFORMATION TECHNICIANS' SYMPOSIUM 2015 PAPERS

---

Claire Armistead & Simone Rostenne – A Devil of a Challenge – Introduction of RFID Technology

Helen Balfour - A perfect fit! Tailoring IT teaching to your community

Renate Beilharz - Cataloguing standards are evolving – still

Nicola Carson & Heather McLenaghan - The Devil's in the Detail – operating a 24×7 library

Lionel Cooper - Maybe libraries need to employ marketers'

Susan Courtland - eRebel with a Cause: My Journey from Student Library Technician to eServices Specialist

Mylee Joseph – New ways of looking and sharing: library professionals engaging in a rapidly changing world

Patricia Murphy - EVOLVING: Value of library technicians in Queensland government libraries

Tricia Murray - Devilishly clever idea to co-locate our two service desks: Swanston Library, RMIT University.

Ormond Oxenham & Suzanne Macrow – Seeing a Service in 3D – implementing a 3D printing service in the University of Queensland Library

Belinda Owen & Debbie Littlewood – Charles Sturt University Library – “Anywhere, Anytime”

Ben Seabourne - The view from above: how consolidating Library enquiries led to a streamlined and enhanced service

Nathan Sentence - Engaging with Communities: What Indigenous Services has done to make the State Library of NSW more accessible to Indigenous Australians

Beverley Walsh & Prue Senior - Open All Hours: 24/7 in an 8 hour world

