

ALIA NATIONAL LIBRARY AND INFORMATION TECHNICIANS' SYMPOSIUM 2013 PAPERS

Alexandra Naum – Research Data Storage and Management: library staff participation in showcasing research data at the University of Adelaide

Renate Beilharz- Cataloguing is riding the waves of change

Sarah Cesare & Belinda Shilkin- 'One Stop Shop' a collaborative approach to online support and training at the University of Western Australia

Tim Leviston & Christine Potter- Surfing the Waves of Organisation Change through Calm Waters and Riptides

Libby Brackenridge- Behind the Bookshelves- stocktake with technology

Elaine Bulluss & Debbie Cox- Cataloguers- adventures of the library world

Christina Heslehurst– UQ's Digitisation Journey: steep but interesting

Vanessa Tuckfield- From Copyright Police to a Valuable Gap Filler

Michael Carney and Holger Aman- Judges, Governors and Changing Libraries

Claire Hill – The Professional Divide: examining workplace relationships between librarians and library technicians

Rob Thomson – Using Unconferences for Unconventional Professional Development

Lysney Brown- Primary Health Care Search Filter: bringing the evidence to shore

Andrew Kelly- Why do we need one of those? The role of public libraries in creating and promoting makerspaces

Liz Luchetti- The Parliamentary Library's eBook experience: from finding the perfect model to measuring its success

