

We are meeting on the Lands of the Traditional Custodians of Dharawal Country and acknowledge their connection to lands, waters, cultures and communities. We pay our respect to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples; and to Elders past and present.

This edition of GLAMAWARRA 2.0 has been brought to you by ALIA South Coast Group. For more information on upcoming events or to assist on the Organising Committee contact: Elaine Glover EGlover@wollongong.nsw.gov.au

Morning Tea today has been sponsored by RAECO

I want to thank everyone who has come today and to thank every presenter for their generosity and contribution to making GLAMAWARRA 2.0 the success it will be. I literally couldn't do this without you!

I also want to thank Margie Kirkness and the staff of Shellharbour City Libraries for their assistance in setting up the Auditorium and making this space available.
