

Online Storytime – Report for January-March 2021

This is the report for the first quarter of 2021 showing how the pilot program is going. Your support for this program has created sales of books, not to mention promoting Australian books and literacy as little kids across the country access Online Storytime through public libraries' online platforms.

Online Storytime take up

These 115 library services comprise 439 branches

out of a national total of 1,400

This means there will be at least

306 publishers,
authors and illustrators

205
titles on offer

Survey results

A survey was sent out to the 115 library services that have signed up, representing 439 local branches from across the country. We received responses from 109 library services for this report.

298 recordings with 17,435 views

A total of 298 recordings have so far been created, with, from available figures, 17,435 views (noting that a number of libraries have not provided this statistic). The recordings have been uploaded to various platforms:

- 141 on Facebook
- 65 on Instagram
- 67 on YouTube
- 17 on the libraries' websites
- 8 on Vimeo

As a result of the program, 965 books have been purchased by library branches so far, with every publisher selling at least one copy of every title made available through the program. The publisher with the greatest sales resulting from the program has sold 226 copies of their titles on the list. This is a very welcome result for authors and publishers.

159 local branches from 44 library services have recorded and uploaded videos

Among the respondents to the survey, 159 local branches from 44 library services have recorded and uploaded videos. 247 local branches in 68 library services have yet to start recording or uploading videos for various reasons including the easing of the COVID-19 situation, which has allowed them to continue running physical events and meant less staff time for recordings. However, many libraries are planning to start recording soon while 37 local branches in 13 library services of those that haven't yet made recordings have purchased titles, so they have resources ready when they start.

We have received some feedback from a few libraries expressing the wish to see more titles on the list, in order for them to find the most suitable Online Storytime books for their users.

Here is a selection of comments from participating libraries:

We thank everyone for making this opportunity available so that we can continue to offer online services. (from a library in SA)

We are so appreciative to have this program, thanks to everyone involved. (from a library in VIC)

We have organised to work with Deaf CanDo services and some titles will also have an AUSLAN interpreter. (from a library in SA)

Although we haven't used any of the stories in Online Storytime yet, at present we are running in-person storytimes and online 'rhyme times'. I think it is a great initiative by ALIA and am impressed to see the list of books growing and Online Storytime continuing. (from a library in VIC)

We love being able to connect to our patrons and their families through stories, thank you for being a part of the team that makes this happen. (from a library in VIC)

Storytime news

ALIA's National Simultaneous Storytime in May is about to be launched. This year we're going 'out of this world' with storytime from the International Space Station. Find out more on our website www.alia.org.au/nss.

RANDOM HOUSE PENGUIN TITLES: Penguin Random House US offers a temporary open license for storytime until 30 September 2021, which is also valid in Australia. There is a number of fantastic Australian authors under their umbrella and a selection can be found on the book title spreadsheet on our website. Read about the details of this license, including their reporting requirements, at: www.penguinrandomhouse.com/penguin-random-house-temporary-open-license/

SPECIAL REQUEST: Publishers may only have territorial rights for a book in Australia and they have asked us to ask you to limit your video posts to Australia-only if possible. More information on the Online Storytime website.

SPECIAL NOTE FROM THE STATE LIBRARY OF WA: The State Library of Western Australia is delighted to be participating in the Online Storytime pilot through the inclusion of Baby Ways. As this title is not available for commercial sale, to support public libraries participating in the pilot, SLWA will make available a limited number of copies of the big book version on a cost recovery basis. Libraries that would like a big book can contact them on bbadmin@slwa.wa.gov.au.

HASHTAG: Recently a library asked what hashtag should be used for the Online Storytime recordings. We recommend: #OnlineStorytime

CONTACT: The Storytime team is here to help. Please email Storytime@alia.org.au or ring 02-6215 8225
