

AUSTRALIAN INTERLIBRARY RESOURCE SHARING (ILRS) CODE

Shareit Wiki

November 2013

The Australian ILRS Code, November 2013, replaces the code adopted by the library sector in 2011.

The ILRS Code benefits Australian libraries and their users by providing greater predictability, consistency, and flexibility in obtaining materials.

The ILRS Code has been endorsed by the Australia Library Peak bodies including Australian Library and Information Association (ALIA), National and State Libraries Australia (NSLA), the Council of Australian University Librarians (CAUL) and the National Library of Australia.

The Interlibrary Resource Sharing (ILRS) Code (together with the Best Practice Guidelines) is designed to support a multi-faceted approach to resource sharing based on reciprocity, co-operation and fairness between libraries, respect for the moral and intellectual rights of creators and publishers and compliance with legal and contractual obligations.

In supporting the ILRS Code, Australian libraries recognise that resource sharing is important in meeting the needs of library users but that it should not be a substitute for the purchase of library materials to meet the primary needs of its users. The purpose of resource sharing is to obtain those materials that a library cannot purchase because they fall outside the scope of the library's collection development policy.

Scope

Although the ILRS Code is voluntary all libraries participating in resource sharing are encouraged to operate under the principles and implement the service level standards specified ensuring an efficient and effective system. The core service is mandatory. Libraries are encouraged to offer all three service levels. Core and Rush levels must be provided before offering the higher Express level. Maximum prices are recommended for each service level. The charge drops to the service level delivered when a supplying library fails to meet the turnaround time.

Principles

Libraries participating under this ILRS Code agree to observe the following principles:

Both requesting and supplying libraries assumes responsibility for:

1. Complying with the service-level standards.
2. Maintaining their ILRS directory entry and
 - a. publishing their resource sharing policy
 - b. listing the service levels supported
 - c. listing all charges and;
 - d. ensuring contact details are correct.

3. Improving services and review processes following best practice under each service level standard.
4. Maintaining their holdings by
 - a. recording up-to-date holdings including holdings of electronic resources
 - b. ensuring where possible availability for resource sharing (insofar as contractual agreements permit).
5. Ensuring that if the Australian National Bibliographic Database (ANBD) is used to identify holdings for requests, where possible commit to making holdings available and up-to-date.
6. Being aware of the licensing conditions for their electronic resources and supplying when permitted.
7. Ensuring the confidentiality of the requesting patron is respected.
8. Undertaking regular housekeeping, completing processes such as received, check-in, returned.

Requesting library assumes responsibility for:

1. Complying with the policies, any special provisions on the use of material and restrictions of potential supplying libraries, as published in their ILRS Directory entry.
2. Providing complete bibliographic details and call numbers of the supplying library where possible and are encouraged to check availability of holdings to avoid unfilled requests.
3. Requests particularly where the requesting library allows direct delivery to its users, i.e. unmediated access with patron delivery including
 - a. authenticating and authorising users
 - b. delivery details are accurate
 - c. requests comply with the principles of the ILRS Code
 - d. bibliographic details are accurate
4. Paying all authorised charges imposed by the supplying library including express delivery.
5. Delivery costs for returning the material borrowed items.
6. Safety of borrowed material, and payment for the loss or damage of the material whilst at the requesting library or in transit back to the supplying library.
7. Ensuring borrowers know the date for the return of loans and honour the due date for the return of loans.

Supplying library assumes responsibility for:

1. Supplying the best copy possible, in accordance with efficient work processes, and notifying the requesting library if a quality copy is not available.
2. Offering a range of efficient payment methods such as the national automated payments service through Libraries Australia Document Delivery, electronic funds transfer (EFT) or payment with request using credit card or cheque.
3. Supplying an item quickly within the service level requested and if unable to supply, advise the requesting library as soon as possible.
4. Providing a loan period of no less than four weeks
5. Material lost in transit to the requesting library.

6. Considering all requests for material regardless of format, however the decision to supply materials is at the discretion of the supplying library and subject to any licensing conditions that may apply.⁴
