PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT NEWS AND ADVICE FOR LIS PROFESSIONALS

MAY 2012

WELCOME

May is Information Awareness Month, a time to focus on the LIS industry and LIS professionals. As you celebrate this month remember to pat yourself on the back for your commitment to developing your professional knowledge and skills - Margie.

Watch! New stories for new libraries

In this presentation renowned futurist Sohail Inayatullah offers a number of future scenarios and works with the audience at SLQ to create a vision for the 21st century public library.

PD category: Informal learning activities

PD points: 1 point per hour, 30 points maximum per year

Innovate! In pursuit of innovation

What is innovation? What does it mean to be innovative? And what's looming on the innovation horizon for information professions? Library technology manager Carol Gauld will bring her wealth of experience in both IT and library environments to this interactive seminar. You'll also have the opportunity to hear from innovators across the information professions as they talk about individual philosophies on innovation.

Investigate! The rise of e-reading

This is a hot topic sure to get even hotter as libraries grapple with the issue of providing quality digital material to a rapidly changing market. A recent Pew Report provides a detailed look at the habits of e-book readers.

Read! Free ebook

The EBL eBook Library online package is available free to all ALIA members. My pick for the month is:

Mulford, Sam, and Ned A. Himmel. How green is my library?. Santa Barbara, Calif.: Libraries Unlimited, 2010.

There is a broad spectrum of ecological sophistication across libraries. While some are at the forefront of sustainable design and operations, others have yet to embrace materials recycling. This book will take you from the first steps to significant green projects and to leading the broader community in taking on the greening challenge.

I'm learning about COUNTER

The latest release of the COUNTER Code of Practice for e-Resources had me admitting I knew little of this industry tool. Although I'm not likely to need the code in my everyday work life I'm finding out more to round out my professional knowledge base.
